The crowd at Newton was immense. Blaine was escorted to a large platform creeted beside the depot, and was introduced, L. C. JACKSON | but just as he was about to speak, the platbroke down. For a minute of there was a good deal of excitement, but Mr Blaine sprang upon the platform, exclaiming "There's always enough left of a Republican platform to stand upon." This reassured the crowd, and Mr. Blaine went on to say that he was consoled for the bad condition of his voice by the reflection that the time discussion was past. The verdict to be rendered to-morrow. He awaited it calm-ly and with a reasonable degree of confidence. It was about 6:20 when the train reached Boston. In the depot was a very large crowd who cheered loudly for Blaine. There was also some cheering for Cleveland from one portion of the crowd and as the carriage containing Blaine, Lieutenant Gov-ernor Ames and Henry Cabot Lodge, a large number of small boys ran after it and hissed while the large crowds of people in the street cheered. Blaine was then driven rap idly to Hotel Brunswick, arriving shortly a ter 5:30. The sidewalk and steps in front the hotel and the sidewalk on the other sid of the avenue were crowded with men and boys who cheered Blaine as he entered lean-
